

22 - 23 January 2020

Psychotherapy of Psychosis in Dialog

"A Lacanian perspective on psychosis" (by Stijn Vanheule), Wednesday 22nd January 2020

In this theoretical lecture Stijn Vanheule will discuss Lacan's view on psychosis, starting from the idea that psychosis makes up a structure. This means that it implies a specific way of living in language and of dealing with the drive (or so-called 'jouissance'). Questions concerning identity ('who am I?') and intentionality ('what does the other want') tend to radically destabilize the experience of subjectivity and of reality. In Lacan's view psychotic symptoms express the characteristic structure of psychosis, as well as particular issues that overwhelm the patient. Therefore these need to be studied in detail. Lacanian therapy in its turn aims at finding a subjective solution in dealing with these issues such that reality and subjectivity are again more organised.

Moderation: PD Dr. Marcus Coelen, Katrin Becker

Time: 6 pm - 8 pm

Entry: 10/5€, free entry for Students of IPU (student I.D.)

at Psychoanalytische Bibliothek, Hardenbergstraße 9, 10623 Berlin

<https://psybi-berlin.de/event/psychoanalysis-in-times-of-neuro-cognition/>

Workshop "Psychotherapy of Psychosis in Dialog", Thursday 23rd January 2020

The clinical workshop is going to take up the lecture for enabling a dialogue between different psychoanalytic approaches on psychosis. In a case report from Stijn Vanheule he is going to present a lacanian perspective on conceptualizing and treating psychosis, which will be discussed from both perspectives: the lacanian and the 'modified Psychodynamic Psychotherapy for people with psychosis'.

Unfortunately no further registration possible, already fully booked.

Moderation: Prof. Dr. Dorothea von Haebler, Samuel Bayer, M.A.

Time: 10 am - 2 pm

at International Psychoanalytic University, Stromstraße 3b-02, 10555 Berlin

www.ipu-berlin.de

Stijn Vanheule, Ph.D., is psychoanalyst in private practice and member of New Lacanian School for Psychoanalysis and World Association of Psychoanalysis. He is professor of Psychoanalysis and Clinical Psychological and head of Department of Psychoanalysis at Ghent University (Belgium).

Lecture and Workshop are financially supported by the Students Union of IPU